

Introduction:

The LSU Libraries Reading List is a tool that can be used to add reading lists to Moodle. It is particularly useful for creating links to full-text articles and ebooks that are available in the LSU Library's collections. Because students are already authenticated when they are in Moodle, the LSU Libraries Reading List provides one-click access to full text material.

Instructors can create a reading list with notes for students.

How to create a reading list in Moodle:

1. It is recommended to use Mozilla Firefox as your browser when using Moodle.
2. Logged in as an instructor, click Turn editing on in Administration>>Course administration.
3. On the module you are interested in, click Add an activity or resource.

4. Choose External Tool. Click Add.
5. In Activity Name, enter the name of your reading list. It can as simple as Reading List, or more descriptive, such as Required Reading: Week 5, or The Pre-Socratic Philosophers: Reading List.
6. In External tool type, choose LSU Libraries Reading List. Click Save and display.

Sharing Lists, Making Lists Private and Copying Lists

- When a list is a public reading list that means that other instructors at LSU can see it and make copies of it. By default, lists are private. If you want to make your list public, click on the link at the top that says Click here to make this list public. You can make the list public if you would like other instructors to be able to copy it, which may be useful if there were multiple sections teaching the same material.

This is a private reading list. Other instructors at your institution will not be able to see it and make copies of it. Click here to make this list public.

- You can copy or import existing lists, either your own lists or the lists of other instructors who have made their lists public. At the top of the Current Reading List page click on Import from Existing List.
- You will see drop-down boxes with two types of lists: Your Lists and All Public Lists.
